Calling all bridge fans

Keen interest has been indicated in a new form of bridge insofar as this area is concerned. This is duplicate bridge, which gives a series of players identical hands to play, and therefore is a direct test of skill without the element of chance that comes from shuffling and dealing in the ordinary way.

There is a special board which forms part of the new game.

Already a Duplicate Bridge Club has been started in Kelowna; Vernon has a franchised group in operation; now a group is being organized for this area. It will comprise players from Summerland, Penticton and district and will be known as the South Okanagan Contract Bridge Club.

With the three groups in operation tournaments, sanctioned by the American Contract Bridge Club will be possible. It is anticipated the club will commence operating by April 20, and will play each Monday night during the year.

Summerland Hospital again reports highly successful year

Best from B.C. went to Warren Dorn (centre) Chairman of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors on a recent goodwill visit to the City of Angels by the Hon. W. K. Kiernan, B.C. Minister of Recreation, and Western Airlines stewardess Marlene Blackburn.

burn to promote tourism to B.C. Supervisor Dorn was presented with Hudson's Bay blanket coat and an assortment of famed Okanagan apples. Miss Blackburn, of Calgary, is costumed as part of Western's "Fly North" campaign.

An aura of achievement pervaded the annual meeting of the Summerland Hospital Society last week as the financial statement was read. While attendance was moderate, those who were present gathered from the directors they are confident, both about the future of the institution, and of obtaining a new building in which to house the hospital.

One of the few hospitals in B.C. that has been persistently "in the black" the Summerland hospital repeated earlier achievements by having a surplus of $828.81 for 1963.

Total gross revenue for the year was $119,449.34.

Colin Campbell, Frank R. Haar and F. M. Stewart were elected to the board for three years and John Cooke to the two year unexpired term of Dr H. R. McLarty. A vote of appreciation was given Mrs T. B. Lott for her many years of service on the board.

Reports showed the new ambulance service had proven its worth, with 83 calls made since it was purchased.

Matron Mrs. J. R. Butler reported 57 births last year; two stillborn and 28 deaths.

The Hospital Auxiliary report was given by Miss Doreen Tait. The Auxiliary made $5,745 during the year. Major items purchased for the hospital included a case room table and an anaesthetic machine. Appreciation for the work of the Auxiliary was voiced by the chairman and the board.

At the annual meeting of the Summerland Hospital Society last Wednesday the directors were conservatively optimistic about the possibilities of obtaining a new hospital. They indicated that slow but steady progress has been made.

An outline of developments was given by Leslie Rumball.

He said that arrangements for a meeting with A. W. Pitkethley, supervisor of hospital construction in B.C. are proceeding.

The board chairman stated that a complete outline of all possible costs was being prepared and when this is done and talks with Victoria settled, the basis for costs of construction can be known.

Three per cent dividend declared by Credit Union

Guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Summerland District Credit Union was Don McKay, manager of the Kelowna Credit Union. He said that Summerland's ability to pay a three per cent dividend and yet charge only eight per cent on real estate loans was quite an achievement.

The three per cent dividend on shares was recommended by the Board of Directors and passed at the annual meeting.

This will be paid from the net earnings total of $31,015.15 which is the highest such figure for the past four years. The balance will be put in the reserve accounts.

VISITING HERE

Visiting Mr and Mrs G. Pennington are Mr and Mrs Ken Pennington of Halifax, Nova Scotia. Ken, who was a Leading Seaman and his wife a WREN with the Royal Canadian Navy, plan on making their future home in B.C. Visiting for the Easter week end from the west coast were Mr and Mrs Dick Scott and baby daughter.

One significant item of the report is that the amount owing to the B.C. Central Credit Union has been brought down from a high of $264,000 as at June 30, 1960 to $30,948.47 as at December 31, 1963.

During the past year the Credit Union made 328 loans totalling $344,678.17.

Yacht Club prepares for active year

Cleaning up of boats, painting, repairing of engines and improvement of craft generally has been underway among Summerland yachtsmen for some time. With the advent of warmer weather this is expected to be in full swing as preparations speed up for what is expected to be an excellent boating year.

The new officers of the Yacht Club have indicated considerable enthusiasm for prospects. With the completion of dredging behind the breakwater and installation of one of the best boat launching ramps in the interior, there are full facilities for local and visiting yachtsmen alike.

Commodore for 1964 is Doug Campbell, who succeeds Keith Marten. Bob Butler is secretary and Ralph Downing treasurer. The executive includes D. H. Hill, Harold Scott, Hilton Hughes, G. C. Johnston, Harry Dracas and Andy Uterhagen.

Socially one of the first functions of the season will be the Commodore's Ball which will be on May 2.

The Ladies Auxiliary will hold its annual meeting on Thursday, April 8.

Saturday dances will be held during June, July and August and will be extended if sufficient interest is shown.

Harold Burdon was re-elected to the supervisory committee and Cornelius Buddingh was elected for a term.

E. F. Smith was re-elected to the credit committee.

Final Overture Concert outstanding

by Madeleine Alstead

The last concert of the Summerland Overture Concert series was held recently in the secondary school auditorium and presented duo pianists Nelson and Neal who provided a grand finale to an especially satisfying musical season.

Allison Nelson and Harry Neal are very fine artists indeed and gave the near capacity audience a display of superb technique and an exciting interpretation of a varied and interesting program of music.

The first number consisted of two delightful duets by Franz Schubert, brilliantly executed and played with fine feeling and warmth. These duets are being presented by Nelson and Neal for the first time in North America.

These were followed by the Brahms' Sonata in F minor, a truly heroic work, a stirring performance which displayed the complete mastery of the artists over their music and instruments, their power and great musical gifts. The perfect synchronization of the two pianos was a delight.

The second part of the program started with a concerto by Shostakovich, an unusual number, well received and another first in North America.

The two final numbers, a Spanish Rhapsody and an operatic fantasy of Franz Liszt completed a program dazzling in its overall effect.

Over the years this concert series has brought us the world's great music much of which we could not otherwise hear.

Following the concert a reception was held in the home economics room.

Editorials

Everyone benefits

More payrolls are possible for Summerland through the reopening of the making of box shoo in this community. While this may be a small venture, compared with the mammoth mills of many parts of B.C., the difference is that the mammoth mills are somewhere else, while this venture will provide paychecks for people who make their homes right here. Also, it could well be the start of something that will grow considerably larger.

Markets for Okanagan area mills, for timber products shipped to the United Kingdom, were indicated as possible during the recent Interior Lumber Manufacturer's annual session held in Penticton.

If the Old Country is going to make the number of housing starts its home-seeking population is demanding, then British builders are going to have to forsake the endless row upon row of conventional red brick, and use something else. They were offered that "something else" by the Hon. Robert Bonner and a delegation of B.C. lumbermen last year. Already, from reports made at the Penticton gathering, there are signs that the "fruit" of the timberlands of this province could well supply homes for the United Kingdom in years to come.

Politicians should have all utterances recorded

There should be a written record of the things that are being said in the provincial legislature. There should be some sort of "Hansard" in which are recorded all utterances by the elected representatives of the people. Such a record would serve a number of highly useful purposes.

First, it would be an accurate record of who said what. There would be a reference which could not be disputed. Anything anybody said would be down in black and white. The public could refer to this knowing full well that this was an accurate accounting of statements in the House.

It would thus prevent the "I have been misquoted claims" often made by politicians. That charge would go out the window, for then one could check and really see what had been said, and the record would be proof positive.

Such a record would also show politicians how much time they waste in speech making. A trait that many of these fellows have is to get up on their feet and talk as long as they are permitted. If they had a chance to read what they said some would realize that they contributed very little to the proceedings, and that the most they accomplished was to prolong the sittings.

Another benefit would be to curb what is being said. There are many reckless statements made, and then denied when the MLA's get back home. With a Hansard their statements would be there for all time and could be checked. This too, would perhaps improve the tone of the discussions as well, for at times the quality of the debates and exchanges are a discredit to the proceedings of the House.

The sitting of our legislature is a very important process. It should have dignity, truth and sincerity. Lately these virtues have been too often ignored. With a Hansard idea in effect, there is bound to be more caution used by the MLA's and thereby the whole quality of our House in session would be improved, at least partially — enough to make the idea worthwhile.

Lost Cat is finally found

(This week, Laverne Borton continues the story of the adventures of her cat, Melissa).

We left N.B. in June 1963, and arrived at Bagotville, Quebec around noon the next day, planning to stay just one night with my uncle Pat and his family — but Melissa decided to take off on one of her little jaunts. As Mom said: "No one had told her that we could only stay overnight." We did wait an extra half day though, but finally had to go, so left her dishes and cat box, and my uncle promised to send her on by train. We all felt pretty blue, but quite confident that she'd turn up.

We visited friends through Ontario, and while at Aunt Kay's in North Bay, Uncle Pat phoned to say that Melissa was on the train, bound for Kelowna, B.C. We had more visits to make along the way, but made for B.C. as fast as possible, only to find that she had not arrived. Gloom descended! We met every train and finally we were told the sad news — that somehow during the transfer from train to van at Kamloops, our girl had escaped from her crate. Quite likely she had decided that it was not the best place to have kittens.

Well, for days my sister and I haunted the express office in Kelowna — in spite of the rude, unconcerned attitude of one of the men there. We'd heard him describe my sister, my grandfather and I, as "a couple of kids and an old man, pestering around about some fool cat lost in Kamloops". That would annoy any animal lover. Someone there did arrange to have the three of us taken to Kamloops by car though, so we could look for Melissa, and that was kind. During the next few days, grandpa phoned the Kamloops agent and also advertised in the paper. He sent a photograph of her along too.

About three weeks later my parents, who had been house-hunting in Calgary, made the trip back to Kelowna and decided to go via Kamloops to have a last look around. When they walked into the station, they found the crate being fixed, and the agent was busily composing a telegram to grandpa. It had happened — the advertisement had been answered just that morning. Gloom arises!

The agent had been kind and helpful throughout, and he now drove Mom and Dad over to see the cat. The very kind woman who had befriended this poor stray lived quite near the station. At first they didn't think it was our cat — she was so terribly thin, and her white fur was all a dirty grey — but the cat wasn't having any trouble recognizing them. It was Melissa sure enough!

It seems she had begged food and when she was given some, she decided this was a nice, safe place — and when the lady of the house went to her basement later on, she found four fat, clean kittens, about three weeks old!

The trip on to Kelowna was a happy one and there were smiles and tears when we arrived. No one was happier or prouder than Melissa; she had even enjoyed the car ride.

We came back to Calgary and she was soon into her old routine. Later on we had a week's holiday and took her with us to the Okanagan again. She stayed at Grandpa Borton's in Summerland where she kept the place free of all dogs, cats and chickens, belonging to the neighbors.

The sad, almost ironic part of the story happened about a month later. Some of the angelic urchins of our district lured her into a bag and, apparently threw her into Glenmore Dam — or so we were told.

It almost broke our hearts to think that after all her adventures and her great journey across Canada, that her trust in kids — and her love of bags — would be the end of her.

Life's way

by Rev. Norman Tannar

"Just same day two of them were on their way to a village called Emmaus, and they were talking together about all these happenings. As they talked and discussed it with one another, Jesus himself came up and walked along with them; but something held their eyes from seeing who it was," (Luke 24:13 New English Bible).

"But something." What was this something that kept these two from seeing Christ, from realizing the fulfilment of scripture, from knowing God's promise, from having joy and happiness, from having a living and vital faith?

That "something" was self, wrapped up in perplexity and puzzlement over the events of the past few days. Even traveler on the road to Emmaus was so concerned with his problem he could see or feel nothing else. But once Christ was allowed to enter into their problem and lives "their eyes were opened."

It is still the same today as we journey along the road of life. Christ is there, to be our companion and guide; but how often "something" holds our eyes from seeing and knowing Him. Many, as they go along life's way, are so filled with themselves that there is no room for Christ.

It has been truthfully said: "There are no problems, just people." Christ came to help and save people.

Lawn Mower Safety—No. 2

Because safety precautions were not taken, objects tossed by rotary mowers injured thousands of people last year needlessly. Some were killed. Protect yourself and others by following these safety steps:

• Know your controls. Read the operating manual carefully. Learn how to stop the engine quickly in an emergency. Always stop the mower whenever you leave it — even for a moment.

• Make sure the lawn is clear of sticks, stones, wires and debris — they could be thrown by the blade.

• On slopes and wet grass always be extra careful of your footing — you could slip and be injured by your mower.

• NEVER check or work on a mower while the engine is running. Stop the engine and disconnect spark wire before doing so.

Report from Parkdale Place

by Mabel A. Kinson

The return of pleasant weather synchronizing with Easter holidays made an enjoyable break to the long winter, very welcome to residents of Parkdale Place.

During March, we were hospitably entertained at tea by Mrs. Marshall's group from the United Church and again by Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Kinzig and one Sunday afternoon, a visit from the Gideons, sponsored by Mr. Manning, introducing Mr. Coolidge, who after a brief address presented Bibles for every room.

Visitors from afar were few but we were honored to meet Mr and Mrs Kindall of Southern Rhodesia, Africa.

Mrs. Setter's primary Sunday School class donated decorated cups of after dinner mints for Easter Sunday dinner while the staff provided beautiful corsages for all and daffodils supplied by J. McLachlan filled the rooms with a breath of spring.

We welcome W. R. Brown to our ranks and congratulate Mrs Haker on celebrating another birthday.

Kind thoughts go to Mrs. Gallagher and Mrs. McClement in the hospital and we wish them a speedy recovery.

Our sympathy extends to those whom have suffered in the recent catastrophe.

Activity room asked for school

Need for an activity room for the Trout Creek elementary school was stated by the members of the Trout Creek PTA at their March meeting. In addition, the need for a piano which would normally be placed in such a room and for gymnasium facilities was linked to the activity room request.

It was pointed out that the dept. of education policy does not permit a provincial sharing of cost of activity rooms in schools of less than four classrooms. This would mean that the entire cost of the project if proceeded with at the present time would fall upon local taxpayers. No estimates of the cost of such a room were reported. At the present time the school has three classrooms.

Speaker was L. A. Matheson supt. of schools for this area. He outlined the B.C. school system, showing the place and work of the superintendent as a co-ordinator as well as an administrator.

Following his talk, trustees W. S. Ritchie, R. Barkwill, K. Boothe and John Bennett answered a number of questions advanced by PTA members.

Youth conference at Baptist Church

QUICK N' EASY

Recipe of the Month

If winter's end has brought with it an end to your ideas of what to serve for dinner, read on! Here's a new recipe certain to spark your interest in meal preparation and perk up your family's appetite, too. Refrigerated crescent rolls wrapped round slices of ham, baked and sauced with spicy raisin pie filling is the dish we speak of. The flaky rolls, the same ones you often serve as a dinner accompaniment, this time take honors as the main dish. The ham slices can debut in a second act from Sunday's roast, or, if you wish, you can try the ready-to-eat boiled ham slices. Serve the crescents and their raisin sauce piping hot - with whipped sweet potatoes studded with puffs of marshmallows, peas and a bright citrus salad. There's no nicer or easier way of greeting Spring, than with a new supper dish like this!

HAM CRESCENTS WITH RAISIN SAUCE
2 cans refrigerated crescent dinner rolls
16 slices ready-to-eat ham
1 can (2 1/2 cups) raisin pie filling

Separate and unroll crescent dough into 16 triangles. Place a ham slice, folded in half, on each triangle. Roll up as for crescents. Bake at 350° for 10 to 15 minutes, until golden brown. Heat pie filling; serve with crescents. Serves 8.

UNDERWATER CAPERS

IT ALL started 14 years ago when a fellow named Newt Perry, who had been in the Navy, did some air-hose exploring of Weeki Wachee spring.

Now the 165-million gallons a day spring, 50 miles north of Tampa, Florida, is the watery home of America's only mermaids.

A bevy of 30 lithe beauties cavort in the 137-foot-deep clear water. They are seen by tourists from all over the world, through the 19 huge laminated safety-glass picture windows of Weeki Wachee's million-dollar underwater theater.

The girls dive and soar, leap and lunge through the water — they even eat bananas and drink soda. Their secret is that each underwater performer has her own air hose. There's also a big Queen Conch shell, which is really an "air shelter."

And the mermaids aren't the only attraction at Weeki Wachee — "w" incidentally, means "water." There's also a river at ride, a covered wagon ride into the past, an orchid garden and a motel and restaurant.

Lee Miltimore and Billy Head completed their Tenderpad Tests and will be invested when they get their uniforms.

Bernie Jardine was awarded the House Orderly Badge and Ken Ryman his collector's badge. If the older boys are looking for something to do, have a look at the Guide Badge requirements. This is another one of these service badges but very few boys get it.

Alan Rasmussen and Earl Miltimore received their Three Year Service Stars, Michael Welsh, Bernie Jardine and Ken Ryman the Two Year

Teaching the teacher

EXPERTS TELL US that almost 90% of all automobile accidents are directly attributable to human failures of one kind or another.

Modern technology has succeeded in making today's cars and roads about as safe as can be. It is time for drivers to catch up — through driver safety training. (Only this type of training will teach young drivers the kind of "safety-thinking" so essential to safe driving.) But training requires teachers, and teachers themselves must first be taught.

That's why the automobile insurance business, as a part of its national program of promoting safety education for the young drivers, pays the costs of the annual Driver Training Education Program conducted by the Canadian Highway Safety Council for teachers in many parts of Canada.

Wood Survival Course coming next week

Need for wider knowledge of safety and survival in the woods has been emphasized by many sportsmen's groups. An opportunity for Summerland area residents to gain this knowledge has been organized. The course will run for three evenings, commencing April 8.

An all day field day on April 11 will demonstrate the various lessons.

The instructor will be W. D. Raith, public information officer for the Parks Branch of the B.C. Dept. of Recreation and Conservation.

The Summerland Minor Hockey Association wishes to thank the residents of Summerland for donations for the Juveniles trip to Dawson Creek, for support of the Juveniles car wash (which raised $152), and for money donated for the broadcast from Kimberley.

Your support of the hockey teams throughout the season was greatly appreciated.

WOOD SAFETY AND SURVIVAL COURSE

Your Money Travels Safely

Whenever you wish to send small sums of money to out of town points, you'll find Bank of Montreal Personal Money Orders safe, convenient and inexpensive. They are payable without charge at any chartered bank in Canada (except in the Yukon) and yet for any amount up to $150.00, the cost is only 15 cents. Personal Money Orders also take the guess work and leg work out of gift giving. You simply hand the amount you wish to send plus 15 cents to a Bank of Montreal teller and you receive your money order in a matter of seconds. Then you fill in the name of the payee and mail the money order at your convenience.

Your money is safe too, because the amount is printed right into the money order and a receipt is given for each one you purchase. If it is lost or destroyed, your money will be refunded or a new money order issued FREE upon presentation of your receipt and the usual guarantee.

For remittances abroad, we supply drafts in U.S. dollars or in the currency of the country to which the money is to go. Our Worldwide U.S. Dollar Money Order saves time and trouble when sending amounts under $500.00 overseas.

For RUSH transactions, our telegraphic and cable system provides quick action.

Why not join the ranks of 3 million other Canadians and make full use of the many services that "My Bank" has to offer. After all, you are better off with an established banking connection.

Junior Red Sox start practices this Sunday

Summerland Red Sox baseball team starts this season's practices in the ball park on Sunday.

All boys, sixteen or over, who can no longer play in the minor leagues are invited to turn out.

League play starts May 3 and manager Joe Sheeley hopes to have a strong Summerland entry this year. Other teams are Kamloops, Vernon, Penticton and Oliver.

At the league organizational meeting held in Vernon recently, Mr. Sheeley was named league president for the coming year.

Labels Save Lives

Every year thousands of young Americans suffer from accidental poisonings. Most of them are under five years of age.

Fatalities are kept low because of careful labeling of household chemicals and insecticides and the speed and efficiency of the nationwide network of public Poison Control Centers. They would be even lower.

In an attempt to drastically cut the number of accidental poisonings throughout the country, the Chemical Specialties Manufacturers Association is continuing the industry-wide "read-the-label" drive it began last year. The drive is aimed at backing up federal regulations requiring detailed labeling of products.

The Association's president, Earl Brenn, says that the following safety tips, if heeded, could significantly reduce the number of accidents which result from misuse of chemical products.

- Keep pesticides and other poisonous products out of reach of children and pets.
- Read the entire label before opening containers.
- Look for the words "danger", "caution" or "warning" on all container labels. Follow directions for use to the letter.
- Never store such products in cabinets with food packages.
- Store garden insecticides in their original, labeled containers. Apply only in amounts specified on the label.
- Read carefully all instructions for disposal of empty containers.
